ProBiri: Personalized Translation

Is your meeting highly technical? Are there too many proper names? Do participants struggle with abbreviations? ProBiri has the answer to all these challenges. With a customized glossary tailored to your meeting, you can ensure the most accurate translation for your audience. You can also specify abbreviations or terms you don't want translated, maintaining the flow seamlessly. Personalization doesn't stop there.

Choose from a variety of male and female voices to find the one that best represents your event. Thanks to advanced technology and engineering, it's almost impossible to tell that it's powered by Artificial Intelligence.
